Desktop Optimisation State Assessment

A comprehensive product deployment solution

The upgrade to a new desktop operating system is a complex activity to undertake. It is also a high-profile activity, touching every user's computer in your environment. A desktop refresh will either make or break the reputation of IT within your organisation.

To mitigate risk and prepare your organisation for the Windows 7 upgrade, Data#3 have developed a service that can capture your current readiness to upgrade, and provide a series of recommendations to prepare. And when you engage Data#3 to assist you with your upgrade, the investment in this service can be offset against the upgrade costs!
